2014 ABBOTT CLAIM

Vineyard
Pinot Noir
(Yamhill-Carlton AVA)

96 Points

“Somehow, in a stellar 2014 lineup, this vineyard designate stands out, as the 2012 did when it was the Wine Enthusiast 2015 wine of the year. Power and precision work in tandem here. The fruit blend conjures up melon, berry, cherry and more, and the oak has the gentlest touch to its presence. There’s tremendous midpalate concentration, and the clear sense that this could age for decades. Let’s just say drink 2018 through 2030. — P.G.

2014 BONNIE JEAN

Vineyard
Pinot Noir
(Yamhill-Carlton AVA)

94 Points

“Deceptively light in color, yet aromatically rich, this sends up a lush mix of berries, spices, chocolate and pastry notes. It’s youthful and vibrant, with clean, bright, tangy fruit that has the balance and power for excellent development in the bottle. Drink now through 2025.” — P.G.

2014
BRYCE
Vineyard
Pinot Noir
(Ribbon-Ridge AVA)

96 Points

“This riveting wine displays the exceptional finesse and precision that fruit from this AVA can deliver. It’s Pinot Noir expressed in the most subtle and demanding way. Beautifully orchestrated red fruits, sappy acids, lush spices, perfect balance and an immaculate mineral-soaked finish are all on display. Drink 2018 through 2030.” — P.G.

2014
CANARY HILL

Vineyard
Pinot Noir
(Eola-Amity Hills AVA)

93 Points

“Owned by the Wrights, this vineyard delivers smooth, forward, full-bodied flavors of cranberry, raspberry and blue plum. There’s a tart snap to the fruit, and a clear sense that it has the structure and depth to develop nicely over the next decade or longer.” — P.G.

2014
CARTER
Vineyard
Pinot Noir
(Eola-Amity Hills AVA)

94 Points

“The defining characteristic of Carter seems to be a taste of steel or gun metal running through the spine. It’s here again, with compact fruit and drying tannins. That fruit has a dark core, and it’s polished and textural, with lightly herbal highlights. This is a wine to track in the cellar over the next decade or longer.”

2014
FREEDOM HILL
Vineyard
Pinot Noir
(Willamette Valley AVA)

94 Points

“Intense aromatics of plum, cherry and red currant introduce this wine. There’s a whiff of pencil lead, and the bold fruit flavors capture a bit of brush and bramble along with perfect, clean ripeness. A suggestion of candle wax comes up. This is a powerful wine that continually demands your attention.” — P.G.

2014
GUADALUPE
Vineyard
Pinot Noir
(Willamette Valley AVA)

92 Points

“There’s a light whiff of the chicken coop here, adding an unexpected note of earthiness to the fresh raspberry fruit. The flavors spread out horizontally across the palate, coasting it completely and lingering with a finishing touch of mint chocolate cookie.” — P.G.

2014
LATCHKEY
Vineyard
Pinot Noir
(Dundee Hills AVA)

92 Points

“This is a recent addition to the winery’s expansive repertoire of single vineyard selections, and it offers a pretty mix of strawberry fruit in a toasty, pastry-flavored mode. It’s perfect for near-term drinking, fresh and delicious, though lightly framed.” — P.G.

2014
MCCRONE
Vineyard
Pinot Noir
(Yamhill-Carlton AVA)

94 Points

“A lovely hue, this is scented with crushed rose petals and raspberries. It’s tart, with zippy acidity, and a terrific midpalate lift. The finish resonates with a coating of café crème.” —P.G.

2014
SAVOYA
Vineyard
Pinot Noir
(Yamhill-Carlton AVA)

93 Points

“Owned by Ken and Karen Wright, Savoya is planted on ancient marine sedimentary soil. Bold cherry fruit carries a streak of salinity, that tastes like a shake of salt and pepper around tart pomegranate fruit. It’s tangy and lightly herbal, with classic structure and a clear path to aging over a decade or longer.”—P.G.

2014
SHEA
Vineyard
Pinot Noir
(Yamhill-Carlton AVA)

93 Points

“This well-tuned vineyard is a favorite among many Oregon vintners. Here are well-entwined streaks of tea, berry and tobacco leaf. It’s textural and detailed, yet retains a certain delicacy that rewards your extra attention as it lingers across the palate.” —P.G.

2014
TANAGER
Vineyard
Pinot Noir
(Yamhill-Carlton AVA)

93 Points

“There’s something almost Grenache-like in the flavors here, which are focused, youthful and packed with ripe red fruits. It’s tart and well-tempered, and lingers gracefully. Hints of orange peel lead into an impression of orange liqueur, framing the supple tannins. Drink now through 2025.” — P.G.
